

Genealogy Jamboree Set

Comedians and people from the "volunteer state" of Tennessee will be among those assisted by local residents at the Genealogy Jamboree next week in Glendale.

Three local residents will be helping people with their "roots." Doug Miller of Saugus will be in charge of the Canadian booth and will give help to those searching in Canada for their ancestors.

Marge Warmuth of Canyon Country will be in charge of the Tennessee booth and will be ready and willing to answer questions on Tennessee research.

And Leslie H. Weber of Canyon Country will have a large display on the use of photography and the enlarging and reducing of old pictures for use in illustrating genealogical histories or books of remembrance.

The jamboree will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday, April 29, at the Glendale Civic Auditorium, 1401 N. Verdugo Rd., Glendale.

There will be booths for every area in the United States, Canada, and Europe staffed by experts in their field.

Also, there will be booths with knowledgeable attendants on cemeteries, churches, courts, wills and deeds. All of these are a rich source of valuable information for anyone researching their family tree.

Numerous genealogy societies from the Southern California area will have tables to answer questions.
